THE MORNING'S NEWS.

WASHINGTON.

Senator Frye's Bill for the Relief of American Shipping.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Mr. Frye's bill for the relief of shipping provides that the following fees shall be collected from owners and masters of all vessels except those navigating the waters of northern, northeastern and northwestern frontiers, otherwise than by sea:—1st, for measuring every vessel in order to enroll and license the same, for vessels under 200 tons register, $2; for vessels of 100 tons and not exceeding 200 tons, $2; for vessels of 200 and not exceeding 400, $4; for vessels over 400 tons, $5; 2d, No charge shall be made for certificates of enrollment and licenses, or for endorsement on the same, nor for certifying manifests, or for receiving certified manifests, and granting permits on the arrival of licensed and registered vessels, and no charge shall be made for entering or clearing vessels engaged in the coasting trade, or in trade with Canada. The bill also provides that no vessel engaged in Canadian commerce shall be subject to tonnage tax or duty nor be required to furnish consular certificates. The assignment of forty cents per month now authorized by law to be collected from masters and owners of vessels engaged in the coasting trade and fishery is also prohibited.

Tariff Commission Bill Practically Defeated.

The action in the House, today, on the tariff commission bill is generally regarded as practically defeating it, since the bill is now where about forty others have a precedent on the calendar, and a majority vote will be required to lay each one aside until the tariff bill is reached. It was thrown out today upon the ruling of Mr. Robinson, of Massachusetts, chairman of the committee of the whole, that it was not a revenue bill, and consequently could not be advanced on the calendar. Mr. Kasson intends to try to reach it in spite of the obstacles in the way.

Pensions for Confederate Prisoners.

One hundred and two petitions signed by about thirty thousand citizens of the states of Indiana, Illinois and New York, have been presented by Mr. Bliss, praying for the passage of his bill granting a pension to Union soldiers and sailors of the war of the rebellion, who were confined in confederate prisons.

Butler not in the Guiteau Case.

Mr. Scoville, on being asked today if he had heard from Gen. Butler yet in relation to his taking part in the Guiteau case, replied:—"I have not. I have had no negotiations with Gen. Butler, and if any have been had by any one, they have been through John W. Guiteau, I suppose. I know nothing about it."

Appropriations for the Sufferers by the Floods.

The House appropriations committee will probably tomorrow report in favor of granting $250,000 more in aid of the sufferers in the Mississippi valley, to be expended under the direction of the Secretary of War. Members from the flooded district will urge that double that amount will do no more than alleviate the immediate want, and a measure is now being prepared to provide for immediate government aid in rebuilding the broken levees.

The Vacant Seat Goes Begging.

The President yesterday sent word to Senator Edmunds that he would be glad to nominate him to the Supreme Court if he would accept. After considering the proposition for a time, Mr. Edmunds declined. There is a report tonight that the place will now be offered to Judge Folger.

Letters From the Arctic Regions.—Nothing New of Importance.

Mr. W. W. Danenhower yesterday received two letters from his son, Lieut. John Danenhower, of the Jeannette expedition. The first one is dated at Bulun, mouth of the Lena, Nov. 9, 1881. There is added a postscript, dated at Yakoutsk, Dec. 17. The trip up the river from Bulun to Yakoutsk occupied thirty-six days, and was made on sledges with dogs, reindeer and horses. Lieut. Danenhower describes the journey as one full of severe hardships.

At Yakoutsk the governor treated him with great kindness. He detailed a lieutenant with instruction to give the wants of the party special attention. They were quartered at a small hotel, conducted on the American plan. In speaking of the terrible voyage of the party, Lieutenant Danenhower says they had to travel 700 miles over the ice from the ship to the mouth of the Lena. They landed in shoal water and were compelled to wade two miles to the land. They were forced to travel 100 miles further before they reached shelter, and he says he was up five days and four nights without sleep or rest. He mentions the fact that out of thirty-three comprising the crew and officers of the Jeannette, only thirteen are known to be living, and one is known to be dead. He closes his letter by wishing his father, mother, family and friends a merry Christmas.

FOREIGN NOTES.

Mr. Forster's Speech Favorably Received.

LONDON, March 7.—Mr. Forster, in his speech at Tullamore, yesterday, said he regretted to state that the reports of outrages were true to a great extent, and reproached Irishmen's want of courage in yielding to intimidation. The Government, he said, were determined that neither landlord nor tenant should mar the Land Act.

The speech was well received, and patiently listened to. No attempt was made to insult Mr. Forster, and he was everywhere courteously received.

THE CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SOME FACTS REGARDING THEM—WHO MAKES THEM AND WHAT IS THOUGHT OF THEM BY THE DRUG TRADE—INTERVIEW OF A TIMES REPORTER WITH PETER VAN SCHAAK, ESQ.

[From the Chicago Times.]

To enable the Times to furnish its readers with some reliable information regarding the Cuticura remedies, which are now attracting so much public attention, a reporter called yesterday upon Mr. Peter Van Schaak, of Van Schaak, Stevenson & Co., wholesale and retail druggists, corner Lake and Dearborn streets, when the following facts were elicited:—

R.—Will you oblige the readers of the Times by answering a few questions regarding the Cuticura remedies?

Mr. Van S.—Certainly; fire away.

R.—Do they sell well?

R.—What reasons do you give for so large a sale?

Mr. Van S.—I give four reasons. First, they are original and revolutionary in their composition and mode of treatment. Second, they undoubtedly possess great curative properties. Third, there are thousands upon thousands of sick and suffering who have tried and found wanting the usual remedies and modes of treatment, and who are ready to welcome a really great and successful medicine. Fourth, the price of them is within the reach of every invalid.

R.—Are your large sales of these medicines through your agents?

Mr. Van S.—No; they are legitimate mail orders. We employ no travelers on the road—are fundamentally opposed to that way of selling goods—the retailer has to stand such expenses, and such staple goods as these require no one to force them off.

Mr. Van S.—I do not. They are proprietary only so far as their names are concerned, these being held as trademarks.

R.—Can you tell me something about this firm?

Mr. Van S.—Weeks & Potter are importers, wholesale druggists and chemists, and for twenty-five years have been the foremost house in the trade in New England.

R.—It is popularly supposed that advertising will sell most anything, regardless of merit. Is it true?

Mr. Van S.—No. A remedy falsely claiming to possess virtues of which it is in fact destitute, will surely fail. No reputable firm—and druggists are the most competent judges—would think of risking fame and fortune on any medicine unless it had, under the most trying circumstances, proved itself to possess extraordinary medicinal value. The expense attending the introduction of such remedies is enormous. A fortune must be spent before any return can be expected. If, after a wide distribution, they are found to possess the virtues claimed for them, those who have been cured will recommend them one to another, and thus make them remunerative. When a man backs his statement with his own money, you may generally rely upon them. This Weeks & Potter are doing.

R.—Have they ever before prepared medicines for popular use?

Mr. Van S.—I believe not. They are, like ourselves, agents for a great many, but we think these are the first that they prepare themselves. It is but once in a lifetime that a discovery is made of a remedy that such a firm as Weeks & Potter are willing to stake reputation and fortune on.

R.—Are their prospects flattering, or otherwise?

Mr. Van S.—Very flattering. As I said before, the remedies undoubtedly possess great merit. And besides they treat blood and skin diseases according to a new and thoroughly rational plan, that must take a firm hold on the confidence of those who suffer from chronic diseases of the blood, skin and scalp.

THE BRIDGE OVER THE THAMES.

The Opposing Parties Agree to a Compromise.

HARTFORD, Ct., March 7.—The opposing parties in the Thames bridge controversy have agreed to a compromise bill which authorizes the construction of a bridge, but leaves the determination of place and the location to a board of army and navy officers to be appointed by the respective department secretaries. No bridge is to be built unless said board approves the plans and agrees that its construction will not be injurious to navigation or the interests of the navy yard at New London.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

JANUARY SESSION AT PROVIDENCE.

TUESDAY, March 7.

Senate.

Senator Wilbur introduced a bill for an act in amendment of Chapter 110 of the Public Statutes, "Of Hawkers and Peddlers," providing that traveling peddlers shall be compelled to take out a license for the sale of their wares in going from town to town, for the protection of local business interests. Referred to the committee on judiciary.

Senator Seabury from the committee on engrossed acts, reported as truly and rightly engrossed the act in amendment of the charter of the First Baptist Church of Olneyville. Read and passed.

Also, presented the account of Edward D. Jones, keeper of the Newport County Jail, for the board of Thomas McGuin, amounting to $55.36. Referred to the joint Committee on Accounts.

House.

The House met at 11 o'clock, Mr. Speaker Sanborn in the chair.

Mr. Pirce introduced a bill for an act in amendment of chapter 127 of the Public Statutes, "Of Milk." The bill provides that any person convicted of selling adulterated or watered milk shall be fined $20 and costs for the first offence and fined to the same extent and imprisoned ten days upon a second conviction,—that milk from which the cream has been removed or which shall not have 2½ per cent. of milk fat, shall be marked "skim milk" in letters one inch long, upon the cans or other vessels from which it is sold, that in all prosecutions under this act, if the milk shall be shown upon analysis to contain more than 88 per cent. of watery fluid or to contain less than 12 per cent. of milk solids, or less than 2½ per cent. of milk fat, shall be deemed adulterated. The bill was referred to the committee on the judiciary.

Mr. Burrington reported back from the committee on education with slight amendment Senate act providing for the election of school superintendents in the several towns by the school committees. It was made the special order of Friday next, immediately after the reading of the records.

Mr. Sheffield called up the bill for the punishment of bribery, and the same was read.

Mr. Chickering was of the opinion that the introduction of such acts as this had had the effect of giving the state the name of being steeped in bribery and corruption. For his own part he did not believe that there was a state freer from those things. Nine out of ten men whom he had known as bribe takers, were not on the registry list, but on the real estate list.

Mr. Sheffield said the gentleman from Pawtucket was mistaken. This bill provides that the giver as well as the taker shall be guilty of bribery.

Mr. Charles Anthony suggested the striking out of the words "place or employment for another, in order to induce any person to vote." This was opposed.

Mr. Sheffield said that was exactly for what the bill was intended. A superintendent of a mill goes to the polls and says to a poor man, "If you will vote with us, you shall have a good place and good pay in our mill." The man, on account of his circumstances, in nine cases out of ten, will accept. That is the most aggravating kind of bribery.

The bill was then passed as amended by a vote of 47 ayes to 5 nays.

Messrs. Bullock, Charles Sidney Smith, Vincent, Stillman White and Daniel S. Wilkinson voted against it.

The bill is as follows:—

Every person who shall give, or offer to give, and every person who shall receive, or offer to receive, any money, or other valuable consideration for the giving, or withholding a vote at any election; and every person who shall furnish, or in any way provide any money to be expended in bribing any person to vote, or to withhold his vote, and every person who shall promise to procure, or offer to procure any office, place or employment for another in order to induce any person to vote, or to withhold his vote, shall be deemed to be guilty of bribery; and for such offence shall be punished as is prescribed in section 3 of Chapter 13 of the Public Statutes.

Adjourned to Wednesday morning, at 11 o'clock.

The telegraph and telephone are wonderful inventions! But are no comparison to the health-giving and life-preserving "WILSONIA." The garments, when worn in sufficient quantities to cover the spine and nerve centres, according to directions, will cure all diseases that are curable. They will cure the worst cases of Catarrh ever known, and there is probably not a case of Paralysis but can be cured, if worn according to directions. All sensible men know that medicine will not cure paralysis, but the MAGNETIC CLOTHING will do it. It will also cure Rheumatism, Asthma, Bronchitis, Inflammation and Bleeding of the Lungs, Heart Disease, Albuminous Urine, Locomotor Ataxia, Gout, Varicose Veins, Congestion of the Kidneys, Spinal diseases, and all kinds of Female Weakness. Also a preventive as well as a cure for Pneumonia, and all contagious diseases, such as Small-pox, Scarlet Fever, Erysipelas, etc. There are now 17,000 people wearing these garments in New York, Brooklyn, Boston and Providence, and there are men of great minds, such as Peter Cooper, Thurlow Weed, Gen. Garrison, Gen. Graham, and thousands of others.

There have been scores of these garments sold in this city in the last few weeks, and they are doing wonderful cures. Names and testimonials can be seen at this office.

the agent for the city, was stricken down with paralysis, laid for weeks in St. Luke's Hospital, New York, and the physicians pronounced his case entirely hopeless. Mr. Lillibridge put on the garments the 25th of June, 1881, and is today almost as well as he ever was. Send or call for a circular at the Principal Office for New England.

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS AND THE NEWPORT JOURNAL.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies and at least one good story, and a complete and comprehensive summary of news,—local and general. The Journal is a large 36 column paper and contains a large amount of reading matter that is valuable to readers in town or country who desire a good Newport paper, but who do not take a daily from the city.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, $6 per annum, or 12 cents a week payable to carrier.

The Newport Journal will be sent to any address in the United States, postage paid, for $2 a year. A discount of 50 cents is made when the whole year is paid strictly in advance. These terms are invariable.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines, or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter are charged for, at 50 per cent. extra and are subject to editorial revision. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered in the Daily for one week or longer.

Notices of births, marriages and funerals 50 cents each.

Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business, are guaranteed but five insertions in a week and are allowed twenty-five changes a year.

The circulations of the News and Journal being necessarily distinct, an advertisement inserted in both papers will reach entirely different sets of readers. As further inducement for advertisers to use both News and Journal, a liberal discount on the combined rates is made.

PRINTING.

The News has four steam presses and is a large and well appointed job printing office. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 8, 1882.

The Massachusetts House voted yesterday to allow Boston to try the elevated railroad.

Senator Logan, of Illinois, and the Hon. John D. Defrees, public printer, are both slowly recovering from their recent illnesses.

According to the report of the Street Commissioner it cost the city $1,654.64 for removing the snow from the streets during the month of February. It was money well spent.

In the City Council last evening the Board of Aldermen were requested to prepare ballots and fix a day for the people to vote on the question of lighting parts of the city by electric lights.

General Nathaniel Church, who has been a leading citizen of Little Compton for many years, and who has represented that town in both branches of the General Assembly, died on Monday. He was about eighty years old.

The Providence Board of Trade and our own City Council have sent requests to the Congressional delegation from this state urging them to use their utmost efforts to have a life saving station located on Bateman's Point on the southern part of our island.

The meeting of the Providence Board of Trade yesterday showed that the merchants of that city are alive to its present interests and awake to all possibilities of the future. Providence is getting to be a large and important city and we would be glad to see all the improvements possible.

We are in receipt of the catalogue of oil paintings and statuary of the late Alvin Adams to be sold at auction March 16 and 17 in Boston. This collection has attracted much attention whenever it has been opened to the public, and the sale is sure to attract many intelligent buyers. S. M. Vose, studio building in Boston, may be consulted with reference to the pictures in advance of the sale, or at the time.

Yesterday a bill introduced by Mr. Sheffield was passed, making the giver and receiver of a bribe at an election equally culpable. The bill also states that a person who shall offer any office or employment to another to influence him in giving or withholding his vote shall be considered guilty of bribery. This law ought to do away with all corrupt elections but it is one that can be enforced only with great difficulty.

The grand jury of Philadelphia has entered a protest against running electric wires on poles through a city. When it is remembered that to touch such a wire, even by accident, is pretty sure death it would seem that due precautions should be taken. The electric light is yet an experiment promising great success, and it is well to move with caution when we attempt to handle it. There is little doubt as to its successful application to practical uses on a large scale, and as it is brought into use needed improvements will be made, and among them will be the use of none but thoroughly protected wires.

Rev. Henry L. Phillips, late rector of Christ Church in Delaware City, appeals to the public for pecuniary aid to conduct a civil suit for his restoration to his charge, from which he was displaced by the Bishop and standing committee of Delaware, and inhibited from the exercise of all ministerial functions in the diocese in April last. He claims that his cause is the cause of "every priest in the American church, many of whom are driven from their homes every year by the crying abuses of the present vestry system of the Protestant Episcopal Church." It is not likely that the courts will interfere unless the case is a violation of civil laws. With strictly ecclesiastical statutes the magistrate in this country has nothing to do. There is no union here of church and state.

The Democrats of Philadelphia are trying to make capital by asking the appointment of a colored policeman. They seem to think the colored men are so hungry for office that they will sell their birthright for a very small mess of pottage. Some of them, like some white men, may do so, but the great majority have memories. They know also that petty office is not the highest goal of life. There is no good reason why in Newport as well as in Philadelphia colored men should not be on the police force and we trust they will be fairly considered in the distribution of all public offices. As we should in no case have a man rejected because he is colored, so we would not have one appointed because of his complexion or race. We have had altogether too much of the color line and now let us away with it altogether so far as rights and immunities are concerned. And especially let us not insult the whole colored population by attempting to bribe them with the offer of an office.

A level headed clergyman residing in another state, who reads the Newport Journal, writes a private note to the publishers, an extract from which we take the liberty of placing before our readers. He says, "In one respect the Journal is the most gratifying paper I read—its anti-monopoly tariff tone. I have no patience when I remember that there is no party in this country that does not obey the behest of that meanest of all states, Pennsylvania. Even the Democratic party with all its sins was once sound on the tariff question, but now many of its leaders in their greed for office have gone down in the common demoralization. We have escaped kingcraft only to be a hundred times more oppressed by political jugglery, high tariff and railroad combinations. Having ruined the commerce of the country, corruption seeks now to atone by subsidizing steamship lines instead of giving all a common and good chance. Well, a thousand years after we are dead tariffs will be unknown."

Mr. Forster, the Irish secretary, gave the Irish people a pretty severe talking to at Tullamore yesterday. He had made a personal tour to see for himself where the trouble lay and he was sorry to find the stories he had heard to a great extent true, and not exaggerations as he had hoped. The people have it in their own power to stop the outrages which are shaming the whole world. He admits that there were bad landlords but this was no excuse for burning houses and killing men. The English government have treated the Irish people unjustly but it was ready now to undo what it had done and make them rich and prosperous, but as long as the outrages continue suspects will be arrested and held in custody and when these cease, then, and then only, will they be released. The speech was listened to with close attention. It caused a great sensation among the audience, and will, doubtless, cause a profound and universal sentiment throughout Ireland.

Congress:—Mr. Dawes spoke at length in the Senate yesterday in opposition to the Chinese immigration bill, and Mr. Edmunds advocated the measure. Mr. Frye introduced a bill for the relief of American shipping, and urged upon the commerce committee the importance of an early and thorough consideration of the subject. Mr. Sherman reported a bill from the finance committee in favor of refunding the $10 silver certificates, and a bill was introduced to punish the unlawful certification of checks by officers of national banks, with an amendment extending its penalty to officers who shall resort to any device or receive any fictitious obligation for pretended collateral in order to evade the existing law against over-certification. An attempt was made in the House to consider the tariff commission bill in committee of the whole, but a point of order that the measure was entitled to no special privileges was sustained by the speaker, and the agricultural appropriation bill was proceeded with instead. A bill appropriating $20,000 for the erection of a statue of Chief Justice Marshall in Washington was passed.

THE NEW SCHOOL HOUSE.

The new school house in the first ward is fast approaching completion. A visit to the edifice shows it to be a first class structure in every respect. It is built of brick with granite trimmings, and its external appearance is all that can be desired adding much to the attractiveness of that section of the city. Within are four large and airy school rooms with all the modern improvements. They are mostly finished in hard pine with blackboards on three sides. The arrangement of halls, cloak rooms, &c., is especially good. Broad and convenient stairways afford ample means of ingress and egress and do away with all necessity for fire escapes. The building is heated by steam, the boiler, piping, etc., having been put in by the Newport Gas Company the managers of which are giving especial attention to this class of work. The first trial of the heating apparatus was had on Friday and it is believed that the arrangement will prove satisfactory.

We hear no time named as yet when the building will be formally turned over to the educational authorities. It is not likely that it will be wanted for school purposes until the opening of the next school year. When the Willow street schoolhouse, which was also built by the trustees of Long wharf as this has been, was dedicated, an interesting ceremonial was observed. Hon. Wm. C. Cozzens gave a very valuable historical address which was published in the City Documents, and other prominent citizens took part. Something of the kind will probably again take place when this building is dedicated to the uses for which it has been erected.

With the completion of this building the wants of the city in this direction are pretty well supplied. The only exception is in the fifth ward which is sadly deficient. As is well known the Thames street school house confers no credit upon the city. It is badly located, badly constructed, badly ventilated and altogether out of harmony with our school building in general. As the city is put to no expense for the first ward structure now about completed it is to be hoped that a movement may be inaugurated at no distant day for a first class house in the lower part of the city. It should be located farther to the south and somewhat higher up, as the town is rapidly growing in that direction. The time may not have yet come for action but the day is not far distant when it will be upon us and the fifth ward be as highly favored with school privileges as the first or the third.

Two large barns belonging to the Thorndike Company at Thorndike, Mass., were destroyed by an incendiary fire this morning. Loss $2000; partially insured.

DEATH OF DAVID KING.

Although not wholly unexpected the decease of Dr. David King which occurred yesterday afternoon caused a severe shock to the community. He has been ill some time but was generally supposed to be improving in health, and many of his friends anticipated his recovery and restoration to the activities of professional life.

His father was a native of Raynham, Mass. He came to Newport in 1800 and entered upon his professional duties the same year. He married the daughter of Gen. George Gordon of the revolutionary army and through his entire life maintained a high reputation as a physician and citizen.

The subject of our sketch was born at the old family home on Pelham street in 1812 and was consequently at the time of his death not far from seventy years of age.

His preparatory education was largely acquired under the instruction of our venerable fellow townsman, Hon. Joseph Joslin, who succeeded John Fraser in the old schoolhouse on Church street, long since destroyed, on the spot where Mr. Augustus G. Greene's residence now stands. He took his degree of A. B. at Brown University in 1831, and was honored with the valedictory, as his brother, Hon. George G. King, had been previously. He graduated in medicine at Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, in 1834, and his father having died at about that time, immediately entered upon the practice of medicine in Newport. He soon after married Miss Sarah G. Wheaton, daughter of Rev. Salmon Wheaton, who was then rector of Trinity Church, who survives him.

As a physician Dr. King had a successful life. Very many of our oldest and most prominent families were numbered among his patrons from the first and continued with him to the end. From all who knew him he received the praise of being a careful, conscientious and diligent practitioner. He was President of the Rhode Island Medical Society for two years, which is understood to be the limit of that service, and was a censor for many years and so remained until his death, having always been very highly regarded and respected by his medical associates.

Dr. King, though diligent in the discharge of his professional duties, took also an interest in other departments and other professions. Very soon after his entering upon his work as a physician the Newport Historical Society was organized and incorporated, largely through his instrumentality, and he became its president to which position he was annually re-elected until his death. During all this time he never lost an opportunity of saving and collecting documentary or other material connected with historical research, notwithstanding the cares of an extensive and laborious professional business were pressing heavily upon him. His collection of local historical data is very large and very valuable.

Dr. King was also for many years president of Redwood library and Athenæum, and was still a member of its board of directors. The shelves of the library are crowded with volumes which attest his zeal and judgment in making such selections as have contributed and will contribute very materially to the high reputation which that institution deservedly enjoys. These selections, it may be well to suggest, were made when the financial power of the library was comparatively small and the opportunities limited.

At the same time that Dr. King was intensely interested in preserving the memory of the former importance of Newport, he was equally interested and active in promoting the present and future welfare of its citizens. He took great interest in the management of the beautiful Island cemetery and was for many years its president.

Dr. King was president of the Rhode Island State Board of Health from its organization and had more recently connected himself with the Newport Sanitary Protection Society whose good work in behalf of the city he had come to recognize. He was also a member of the Cincinnati, of the Rhode Island Historical Society and other congenial institutions.

In his religious life Dr. King was strongly attached to the Protestant Episcopal Church in connection with Trinity parish in whose affairs he took a deep interest to the last. He was eminently unselfish in his ambitions through all his life, devoting much of his time and labors to questions of public concern and seeking the prosperity of his native city and the public, even to the sacrifice of his own.

TREASURER WESTCOTT'S BENEFIT.

Mr. Westcott ought to be satisfied with the benefit which the people of Newport gave him last night. The house was crowded to its utmost—every seat taken and the standing room pretty well occupied. The gallery was as crowded as possible and the play was about as good as the house.

Joseph Murphy needs no introduction here, and is always a welcome guest. As the Kerry Gow he shows the true Irish spirit, and with his constant flashes of wit and courage, gains and keeps the attention of his audiences.

He acted last night with his usual good spirit and was admirably supported by Miss Julia Stewart, who took the part of the trusting Irish girl in excellent style. The rest of the support was well sustained.

DEATH OF CAPT. SAMUEL LEE.

Capt. Samuel Lee, a well-known and respected citizen, died at his residence on Pope street yesterday afternoon. The deceased was a successful sea-captain, a first class navigator and was one of the pilot commissioners of the state for many years. His knowledge of nautical and maritime matters in general was very extensive and he was considered excellent authority upon all such matters. He was treasurer of the Newport Marine Society in which he took great interest. He was also a member of St. John's Lodge No. 1, A. F. & A. M. The funeral of Mr. Lee will take place tomorrow at 3 o'clock at his late residence on Pope street. Rev. Mr. Van Dyke will conduct the services at the house, after which St. John's lodge will take charge of the remains and perform their regular masonic exercises. The lodge will meet at their hall at 2 o'clock and accompanied by the Newport band proceed to the house.

BROWN UNIVERSITY SCIENTIFIC EXPEDITION.

The "Brown University scientific expedition" will start early next June. It is proposed that, in view of the fact that the specimens collected will be given to the museum and will be therefore at the service of the citizens as well as collegians, the extra expenses for dredges, tide gauges, and other instruments, will be borne by those who take an interest in the advancement of natural science. This museum is the only one in the state, and it is expected the people will assist in this attempt to enlarge its usefulness. The president of this expedition is Alpheus S. Packard, Jr., professor of zoology and geology. The executive committee consist of Herman C. Bumpus, '84, chairman; Elisha Dyer, Jr., '83, Ira Barrows, '83, Marshall A. Newell, '83, and Richard Lamb, '84. The schooner Althea, of 240 tons capacity, Capt. Doscett, has been chartered. The vessel will sail soon after commencement, and will proceed directly to the Grand Menan islands, where it is hoped a good number of birds' eggs can be secured. Then the course will be along the northern shore of Nova Scotia, visiting the remarkable cliff formations in Annapolis basin and Minas basin. Land parties will be sent out at various places to take astronomical observations, record tides and collect marine organic remains from the ore beds. The expedition promises now to be a success. The students have shown interest in the subject, and it is hoped all alumni of the college and friends of education will extend a generous aid.

MR. WOOLLETT'S READING.

To the Editor of the Daily News:—

I think your commendation of Mr. Woollett's opening of his Tennyson course, in yesterday's News, might have been made a good deal more emphatic and yet fallen short of the whole truth. It certainly was a rare achievement in the way of bringing out by voice and look and action the finer shades of a poet's meaning. For more than one of that intensely attentive audience, I can say, that they listened with mingled feelings of wonder and delight. The wonder was, at the memory which could thread its way with such apparent ease through so vast and varied an accumulation of picturesque description, subtle reasoning, delicate delineation, racy dialogue and sudden bursts of tender or fiery passion—and the delight was, with the pure truth of feeling, the exquisite pathos and power, the delicate justice to every changing light and shadow of sentiment, which made this superb poem painting to the eye, music to the ear, and a living and present reality to the soul. It was a wonderful interpretation of a wonderful creation—if, indeed, one might not call it a second creation of the original one. For every one who has read the poem felt as if he had never really read it before. It was made a new thing by having its meaning and beauty brought out with such fresh and rare interpretative power.

We predict for this new and noble enterprise of Mr. Woollett's a great and growing success. B.

CITY COUNCIL.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS.—REPAIRS OF THE STREETS.—WATERING STREETS.—IMPROVEMENTS TO HOOK AND LADDER HOUSE AND POLICE STATION.—THE GOOD OF THE CITY VS. THE PRINCIPLES OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

The regular monthly meeting of the City Council was held at the City Hall Tuesday evening, every member being present.

The finance report for February was presented and the following amounts were approved and ordered paid from the several appropriations:—

Fire Department	$ 5,052.80
Salaries	2,350.82
Streets and Highways	2,177.23
Sewers	158.25
Police	1,418.46
Lighting Streets	1,004.87
Public Schools	646.17
Paupers and Vagrants	265.27
Newport Asylum	211.11
Books, Stationery and Printing	253.21
Removal of House Offal	112.50
Miscellaneous and Incidental	910.46
Total	$14,561.21

The third quarterly report of the City Treasurer was received, showing an expenditure during the quarter of $91,249.07, and the receipt of $16,980.46. The balance on hand at the beginning of quarter was $165,657.85, balance on hand at end of quarter $91,389.24.

The quarterly report of Chief Engineer of the Fire Department was presented. During the quarter there has been expended for running expenses, new hose, new truck and incidentals $6,246.89. There have been three false alarms and five fires. The insurance on buildings burned was $27,400, and the amount paid $7,086.50.

The quarterly report of the Overseers of the Poor showed the expenditure of $1,049.45. No warrants have been issued and no commitments made during the quarter.

The report of the committee on streets and highways was received. The committee recommended that the city barn on the Freebody land be sold as they had now no use for it. They were authorized to sell it. Also asking an additional appropriation of $6,000 for the repair of the road-bed of certain macadamized streets, especially Bellevue avenue, Catherine street and Broadway. Councilman Barker, in presenting the report, stated that the streets which they proposed to repair were in very poor condition and it was necessary to put them in good condition before summer. The expenditures for the present year had been almost exclusively in the compact part of the city, over $11,000 having been expended on paving Thames and repairing Franklin streets. A new stable had been built and many other extraordinary expenditures had materially reduced the sum originally appropriated. He did not consider that sum, $45,000, enough for the proper care of the streets but it was all they could get. Mr. Lawton thought the sum asked, $6,000, large and desired to know the particular localities needing repairs and the sum for each. Mr. Waters stated that the Street Commissioner had appeared before the highway committee and given those details. $3,000 was needed for Bellevue avenue, the road bed of which was in very bad condition, being muddy and full of holes; $1,000 for Broadway where the building of the sewer had greatly injured the road; also lesser sums for Catherine street, which should be finished; for Third street which was also in poor condition and for other outlying streets. Mr. Burdick said Newport's prosperity depended to a great extent on good streets, that it was in fact absolutely necessary for the good of the city that those streets should be put in good condition and at once. Messrs. Lawton and Stoddard were opposed to overdrafts and thought the highway committee had already expended enough money for one year. President Bacheller was opposed to overdrafts and thought the sum named a large one but he was more opposed to muddy streets.

An aye and nay vote was then taken which was as follows: Ayes—President Bacheller, Messrs. Wilbur, Barker, Flagg, Waters, Underwood and Burdick. Nays—Messrs. Stoddard, Peckham and Lawton.

The Board of Aldermen in accordance with its time honored custom of adhering to principle could not vote this sum as it would cause an overdraft to that amount. They, however, were willing to compromise with their principles at the rate of 50 per cent. and voted to appropriate $3,000 which of course necessitated an overdraft. The Council amended by making the sum $5,000, but as they were still unable to agree a conference committee consisting of Alderman Langley and Councilmen Peckham and Waters was appointed but was unable to agree upon any sum. The Council decided, as the sum asked for was really less than what was needed, to let the blame for the failure fall where it has so often fallen, on the Board of Aldermen.

The committee on city property was instructed to procure plans and estimates for the remodeling of the Police Station so that it could all be used for police purposes.

The report of the Street Commissioner for February was received. The cost of removing the snow from Thames street during the month was $1,645.61; for placing gravel on crossings $11.03; for removing rubbish $100. The balance to credit of street department February 28th was $964.76. To credit of sewers $2,180.07.

The report of the fire department committee was received and $300 appropriated for altering the entrance of Hook and Ladder house to permit of the exit of the new truck.

The committee on gas and lamps recommended that the question of electric lighting be submitted to the people. The Board of Aldermen was accordingly requested to prepare ballots and appoint a day for voting on the subject. The committee made no report of progress and gave no information by which the people could be guided in deciding the question.

His Honor the Mayor was instructed to request the Rhode Island representatives in Congress to use their influence to secure a life saving station at Brenton's Reef.

The City Marshal presented his quarterly report showing that the police had made 156 arrests, there have been 40 commitments, 5 deserters have been secured, 72 drunks taken to the Station and 17 helped home.

The committee, consisting of Joseph Osborn, of Tiverton, R. S. Chase, of Middletown, and W. E. Crandall, of Newport, appointed by the General Assembly to fix the boundary between Newport and Middletown, reported that the work was completed. Newport's share of the expense ($44.15) was ordered paid.

The report of the Inspector of Nuisances was presented. He complained of the condition of three sewer eyelets which were the only nuisances out of 115 complained of that had not been abated.

The ordinance in relation to revelling was slightly amended to facilitate the making of warrants.

The committee on streets and highways was instructed to advertise for bids for watering Bellevue avenue and Bath road.

Alderman Crosby and Councilmen Stoddard and Underwood were appointed a committee to find cost of purchasing and keeping of horses for the Fire Department, and to be used also by the Street Commissioner.

A petition was received from the Fuller Electric Light Company, of New York, for permission to erect poles and run wires for furnishing electric light. Referred to committee on gas and lamps.

Petitions of J. J. Carry and others to have Everett Place covered with crushed stone and of G. M. Tooker and others for a crosswalk on Touro street from Kay, referred to committee on streets and highways.

Petitions of Philip Rider for change of crosswalk on Mill street, of J. A. C. Stacy for permission to use the steam crusher, of Samuel R. Honey for use of steam crusher and steam roller for repair of Commercial wharf, under the direction of the Street Commissioner, also of Theodore N. Davis in relation to the deed of the property lately purchased by him at Bateman's Point, referred to committee on streets and highways with power to act.

In the Board of Aldermen Luke P. Waters was granted a junk license and applications of C. McDermott, John Curren and J. H. Holmes for liquor licenses were ordered published.

There being no further business the Council adjourned to meet the first Tuesday in April at 8 o'clock P. M.

The Providence Press says:—"In 1788, Rufus B. Abel, a master of a vessel from Newport, brought home from the South, on his own account, 120 bags of unginned cotton, weighing 20,400 pounds. Was not this the first cotton that was brought from the South into New England?"

It cost New York $4,000,000 in 1881 to maintain the public schools, and $60,000,000 to support the rum shops.

FORTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, March 7.

House.

Mr. Sherman reported from the finance committee, the following original bill, which went to the calendar:—

A bill to provide for the conversion or redemption of ten-dollar refunding certificates.

Mr. George introduced a joint resolution authorizing the Secretary of War in his discretion to use the hospital tents now possessed by the War Department to furnish temporary shelter to the distressed people driven from their homes by the the Mississippi overflow. Passed.

At 1.10 P. M. the Chinese bill was again taken up, and Mr. Miller, of California, called attention to the recent popular demonstrations in California and Nevada in behalf of the bill.

Mr. Farley said he had also received a number of despatches of similar import from meetings at Sacramento City, Oakland and elsewhere.

Mr. Fair had read a despatch from the governor of Nevada, dated March 4, stating that mass meetings for restriction were unanimous in favor of the bill.

Mr. Dawes being entitled to the floor, said he was aware the friends of the measure were impatient for a vote, and that in their opinion debate was exhausted. His sense of duty, however, compelled him to proceed. He said it had been confessed by the supporters of this legislation that it was invoked under the influence of overpowering passion.

The despatch just read furnished ample proof of the blind, furious and darkening passion which threatened to swallow up every effort to deliberately consider the economical or what might be called "the sentimental" objections to the bill.

Mr. Edmunds defended the principle upon which the bill was based. He said the fundamental prosperity of a republic consists of the homogeneity of its people; that the Chinaman here did not assimilate socially or politically, and were not homogeneous with our population, and it did not now appear they could assimilate. He favored a limitation of the period of suspension to ten years. He shared in the opinion of the promoters of the bill, that it was not useful to the people of the United States or of the Chinese Empire that increasing immigration from that country to this should now continue. If the two races are not congenial, it was within competence of the United States, as it was within that of the Chinese Empire to say in a spirit of friendship and good will.

Mr. Platt then obtained the floor, but gave way for a motion by Mr. Hoar for an executive session.

The following business was transacted:—

Mr. Frye introduced a bill for the relief of American shipping, and, in urging the special importance of the subject on the committee on commerce, spoke of the discriminations made by our laws in favor of foreign ocean lines and against our coastwise vessels.

Mr. Frye introduced a bill identical with that presented by Mr. Money in the House for fast ocean steamship mail service, etc.

The Senate at 4.10 went into executive session, and at 4.40 adjourned until to-morrow.

House.

Mr. King, of Louisiana, offered a resolution directing the committee on appropriations to consider what measures of relief should be extended to the sufferers by the present floods of the Mississippi river and its tributaries, and to report by bill or otherwise as speedily as possible. Referred.

The House then, at 1.35 P. M., went into committee on the whole (Mr. Robinson, of Massachusetts, in the chair,) on the state of the Union, and Mr. Kasson called up the tariff bill, for the appointment of a tariff commission had not precedence under the rules to consideration at the present time.

The agricultural appropriation bill was then taken up. The amount appropriated is $996,880, an increase of $71,380 over last year.

After a rambling debate on the tariff and other subjects, the committee rose, and the Senate bill was passed authorizing the Secretary of War to use the hospital tents for the relief of the sufferers from the overflow of the Mississippi river.

The House then at 5.10 adjourned.

The effect of the electric light upon the hygiene of the eye was discussed at a recent meeting of the Société de Médicin Publique et d'Hygiène Professionale in Paris. The discussion was brought about by a communication from Dr. Javal, a recognized authority on questions relating to vision, who declared electric light to be perfectly harmless, except, perhaps, in the case of some few persons who are specially sensitive to the more refrangible rays. The scientists who took part in the discussion were with one exception of the same opinion.

CONFERENCE OF STATE MINISTERS.

United States and Mexico on the Reciprocity Treaty.

Special Despatch to the Daily News.]

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Romero, the Mexican Minister, will hold a conference with Secretary Frelinghuysen tomorrow on the reciprocity treaty as relating to Mexico.

The President too Slow for the Stalwarts.

Special Despatch to the Daily News.]

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The Stalwarts are said to be disaffected with the President for his lack of energy in filling vacant offices.

Wall Street.

Special Despatch to the Daily News.]

NEW YORK, March 8.—Stocks opened weak ⅛ to 3 lower. The early dealings declined from ⅛ to 5½ but were succeeded by an advance of ⅛ to 1¼ and subsequently again sold down ¼ to 2. After 11 o'clock they fell off ½ to 2 and there is the same tendency at noon but it is irregular.

—Mr. Patrick Canoe, who has been watching with sick people, has been taken to the Newport Hospital. He charges his wife with trying to poison him. He is now in a very critical condition.

The afternoon session of the ministers' conference was opened with an interesting discussion, full of suggestiveness on the best way of making pastoral visits, which was participated in by all the members of the conference. Following this discussion Rev. Frank Rector read an essay of great freshness and profit to the conference on the Christian ministry. In the evening an excellent sermon was preached by Rev. P. G. Wightman from Judges vii. 21. The sermon was a forcible presentation of the duty resting on every man to stand in his own place and do his own work. The exercises closed the session of the conference which will meet again in one month in a place to be announced.

THE GREAT NIHILIST TRIAL.

Of the score of so-called nihilists who have been on trial in St. Petersburg for little more than a week, ten, including one woman, were on Monday sentenced to death, and the remainder to different terms of penal servitude,—of course in Siberia. None was acquitted,—Russian courts know their duty too well for that. they are organized to convict, and it is not difficult, if proof of the special charge fails, to find general grounds to condemn. The trials have been characterized by the usual traits of courts under an irresponsible power. A dispatch to the London Times by way of Tilsit says no political trial before has been conducted "with such secrecy, severity and disregard of the ordinary usages of legal procedure"—which is a strong statement to make about a trial in Russia. There were 23 prisoners put on trial on various charges, not before a jury because since the acquittal of Vera Sassulitch the government has not dared to trust a jury, but before a bench of judges. They have been tried separtely or in groups according to the crimes alleged against them, but no case was finished independently and judgment was pronounced on all at once. The prisoners were forbidden to consult together, of course, and at first the president of the court forbade any communication between them and their counsel. The counsel, numbering 17, opposed this outrage so vehemently that at last Prosecutor Mouravieff himself interposed a protest, and the prohibition was withdrawn. Three of the accused persons went mad and did not appear in court, and one of these was released; the other two remain in prison. Among the 20 tried were included Sukhanoff, a lieutenant in the army; Emeliadoff, a rustic scholar; Vorontchik and Friedenssohn, Jews; Trigoni, an elegant, aristocratic figure with eye-glasses and close-trimmed black beard; Ismieff, a shaggy bearded mechanic; Teterka, a moujik, uncouth, fierce-bearded, wild-eyed bestial; Mikhailoff, a keen, strong, forcible Russian; Barannikoff, of like sort with Mikhailoff; Klatotchnikoff, formerly a member of the police; Merkonloff, a fellow with long locks, who gave evidence against several of the others; and three women Jukimoff, Lebedeff and Terentieff, who are described as hideous, and as interrupting the proceedings from time to time with coarse jokes and laughter.

The reported course of the trial has been curious and contradictory. One day Barannikoff is said to have confessed to stabbing Gen. Mezentzeff in August, 1878, the next day he is said to have declared himself misunderstood, that he did not kill Mezentzeff, but only fired a pistol to frighten Col. Makaroff, who was with the general, while another man did the stabbing. Makaroff did not dare to recognize the prisoner absolutely, he only thought he might be the man; he was cautious because he had been threatened with death if he denounced Barannikoff. Mikhailoff admitted that he was concerned in the attempt on the life of the late Czar in 1878 (for which Solovieff was executed) in the Little Sadowa mine, and in the assassination of last March. In that last and successful attempt no Jew or Pole was allowed a share; "for," said Mikhailoff, "we wished that Europe should clearly see that despotism was being taught a Russian lesson." The czar might take notice that the German influence which he so much dislikes in his bureaucracy is not present in the nihilist ranks. Four of the prisoners at the outset protested vigorously against the whole circumstance of the trial, on the ground that the court, being the mere tool of the government, could not rightly give judgment in cases of alleged offenses against the government, yet only one of these refused to plead, and two pleaded guilty. The Jew Vorontchik, who was his own counsel, cross-examined the witnesses against him sharply, and one, a lodging-house-keeper, declared that the Vorontchik who lodged in her house had black hair, while the prisoner's hair was white. Prosecutor Mouravieff made the extraordinary comment that the prisoner had had plenty of time to grow white-headed in prison. Lieut. Sukhanoff confessed that he had a share in the Little Sadowa mine and in other mines, and in preparing explosives for the assassination of March 13. His mother was one of the few persons admitted to witness the trial. Last Wednesday all the prisoners were brought in together and asked severally to which revolutionary group they belonged. Jakimoff, a woman whose shop-keeping was the shelter for the workers in the Little Sadowa mine, said she belonged to the party of all honest people; she was the arm that executed the will of the people. Morosoff answered that he was a terrorist to the bitter end, for he believed terrorism the only means toward the liberty of the individual and the press. Of similar frank tenor were other declarations.

When the counsel came to speak it is plain they could have little to say. The evidence against their clients, outside of their own admissions, was slight, but, considering what those admissions were, what had they to plead? Alexandroff, who was one of Vera Sassulitch's volunteer counsel, is said to have made an effective speech in behalf of Emelianoff, and demanded his acquittal; yet Emelianoff had defiantly asserted that he was of "the party of the national will," and belonged to "the active cohort engaged in the struggle." The president of the court twice interrupted Alexandroff, and cut short the pleas of some of the prisoners who spoke for themselves. Eloquent addresses were made by Prince Reikouatoff and others of the counsel, some, it is said, "with marked effect." The general opinion, according to some despatches, was that the prisoner would escape capital punishment; the principal ground for which opinion seems to have been that Gen. Ignatieff desired leniency, though the Czar was understood to demand sentence of death on at least three of the prisoners, Sukhanoff and Mikhailoff undoubtedly being two of these. The court have not displeased him, it is safe to say, by devoting a larger number to the gallows.—[Springfield Republican.

AN ACROSTIC.

When an æsthetic young lady of town,
Made her way to the shops of renown,
Into Farrow's jewelry store,
Looking its Christmas goods o'er,
There his "too too" low prices she found.
Oh! then she cried, as she dimpled her chin,
Not too fast, Mr. F., but let us begin.

First of all, here are clocks for $1 or more,
And good timekeepers, too, "Are you sure?
Are you sure?"
Reliable watches, stem wind and stem set,
Remember! six dollars, the lowest price yet.
Oh! oh! oh! What forks and spoons, and knives for butter;
Why, such ridiculously low prices are "too utterly utter!"

Only look at these napkin rings going at cost,
Plated and silver, with bead work and frost;
Those are just lovely, "too beautifully too;"
In the light they now flash, they are so bright and so new.
Can you think of such prices for gold bands and rings?
It seems that as presents, all are fond of such things,
And these chains and necklets—do tell me the price?
Now that will suit Nannie, with locket so nice.

Enough, Mr. Farrow, my head nearly spins,
With the goods, and the prices, your own kind attention,
Each impression I now so æsthetically mention,
Leaves but one choice, with those who want to buy,
Each Christmas as it rolls around when time is on the fly.
Remembrances, and other gifts, "thanks, thanks, most awfully."

PRAISE SERVICE,

—ON—

Sunday Evening,

AT 6 O'CLOCK.

SUNDRIES.

Has hands, but they toil not—a clock.

Talk about modern miracles; Mr. O. says he cured his boy of some bad habits by the laying on of hands.

A little girl in a London Sunday school being asked why God made the flowers of the field, replied:—"Please, ma'am, I suppose for patterns for artificial flowers."

Mr. Milu says his church is to be the church of the future, and then he tells us in the same breath that there is no future. What is he giving us?—[Boston Transcript.

"I tell you," exclaimed the theatre-manager, "that Miss Ruskin had a splendid reception. The house was fairly ablaze with enthusiasm." "Yes," said Fogg dryly, "as the house was all paper it was easily set ablaze."

This is a boy's composition on girls:—"Girls are the only folks that have their own way every time. Girls is of several thousand kinds, and sometimes one girl can be like several thousand girls if she wants anything. This is all I know about girls, and father says the less I know about them the better off I am."

FARM AND GARDEN.

Awake Thou That Sleepest.—American farmers should see to it that they raise enough potatoes next year for our own consumption. At present Scotland and Ireland are shipping great quantities. Denmark is sending us butter and Canada furnishes us hay in large quantities. Foreign potatoes, foreign hay and foreign butter to say nothing of oleomargarine are all on sale in Newport. What are we coming to?

Raising Grapes.—Out-of-door grapes do not grow as well in Rhode Island as in many other states and yet it is worth while to continue to plant vines. Every householder should have one or more about his premises and much care should be exercised as to varieties. A Western New York grower writes that all varieties of grapes do well in that famous grape region except the Iona, which lacks vigor and makes only a feeble growth. It is proposed to graft it on Isabella or Concord roots, in the hope of securing more wood. Many vineyardists are also proposing to graft their Isabellas with Delawares and other choice varities.

Seed for Planting.—The importance of good seed is becoming more and more apparent. The Prairie Farmer says wheat, rye, oats and Indian corn if ripe and kept dry, are good for seed up to three years. If good, seed corn will be plump, bright, and without any wasted appearance in the "skin" where the grains come together. If the grain is cut across or carefully peeled down, the germ will show the same bright appearance. Such seed, placed between folds of moist cloth or pressed into soil in a flower-pot, covered with two inches of earth, and kept moist at a temperature of 75° to 80°, should germinate in three days. To this the Farmer adds:—"Look to the seed corn this year especially. It is better to pay any price for sure seed than to use suspected corn for nothing."

Experience With Poultry.—An "Old Poultry-Raiser" gives the following notes out of his book of experience in The Country Gentleman, from which those of our readers who are interested in this kind of livestock may gather some useful hints:—

All black varieties of chickens are poorly suited for market poultry. They show the pin-feathers, and are not so salable as white or light colored fowls. Those with yellow legs and skin are more salable than blue or white-legged ones. Asiatics are among the best winter-laying fowls, and the chicks can be raised in early spring, when they command a high price as broilers. The small breeds are tender, and many die if hatched early; they cannot stand cold or wet. Asiatics grow and thrive, even when snow is on the ground. In starting in the poultry business do not build one large house, but several small ones. They need not cost much to hold thirty, or near to that number, without crowding. The smaller flock always does the best under all circumstances, provided they are fed in proportion. Divide the flocks into several buildings, and healthy fowls and the best results are sure to follow, if food and cleanliness are provided.

Wait Until it is Time.—It is bad to be too late and many farmers suffer by being behind the times. But it is just as bad to be out of season on the other hand. In the press of work at the opening of the season it is possible to do some things too soon. One is often tempted to put in the plow or spade too soon in preparing the land for early crops. This is a case in which one can follow the old injunction—"make haste slowly." If the soil does not crumble as it falls before the plow or from the spade, but is pasty and is left with a smooth surface, then wait.

Tree Planting.—The Agriculturist says, another work that is done too soon is tree planting. We advise the ordering of trees early, and the sooner they are received the better, but they need not be set out too early. In taking up the trees they lose a good share of their roots, and those roots that remain are not yet established and in working order, or as the gardeners say, "have not got hold of the soil." If a young tree is planted and exposed to the drying winds of March, its buds and the bark are seriously affected; drying goes on, and the roots are not yet ready to supply the moisture needed to make up for this loss: hence many really good trees are actually dried to death or seriously injured, and the nurseryman is blamed.

Curing a Bad Habit.—A man bought a horse, warranted "free from all tricks," etc. During the first ten days all was well. Subsequently the horse proved an inveterate cribber. The seller was apparently astonished. Nothing of the kind ever occurred while he owned the horse. An inspection of the stable where the horse had been showed no traces of chewed woodwork. My brother-in-law, accustomed to horses all his life, was sorely puzzled. He was convinced there "was some game," and "game" there was. Convinced that I had been "sold," I retaliated by finding out that the seller used a paste made of red pepper and brown soap, lightly applied wherever and whenever he discovered marks of teeth in the stall, the paste being masked by dust scattered on top. Thus it was, the horse thinking my woodwork was like his late stable, let the timber alone at first. I tried the remedy. The horse has not attempted to crib for four months, and a stranger would never imagine that a hundred little spots within reach of his head have bits of the paste. The horse knows it, however, and lets my stall alone. Let any one in doubt try it.

It is useless to deny that the brightest and fairest fall easy victims to consumption, and equally fruitless to ignore the fact that decline has its origin in many cases in neglected catarrh. Sanford's Radical Cure is a pure, sweet balsamic specific.

Death to rats, mice, roaches and ants; PARSONS' EXTERMINATOR. Birns, granaries and households cleared in a single night. No fear of bad smells. Best and cheapest vermin killer in the world. Sold everywhere.

Winthrop Wrought-Iron Furnace!

Has been in use for the past seven years, and given entire satisfaction. I offer it to the public as the most desirable furnace on the market. Special attention is called to the new dust-flue damper and revertible flues, that are not found in the other wrought-iron furnaces. The dust-flue damper prevents escape of dust when shaking down; the revertible flues cause the flames to sweep the entire surface of the wrought-iron drum, thereby securing much greater radiation of heat, and consequently a great saving in fuel. Cost less to keep in repair than any other furnaces. Are powerful heaters, with moderate consumption of coal. I have sold over 70 in this city. Sold by

The Salvator for Invalids and the Aged. An Incomparable Aliment for the Growth and Protection of Infants and Children. A Superior Nutritive in Continued Fevers, and a Reliable Remedial Agent in all Diseases of the Stomach and Intestines.

This justly celebrated Dietetic Preparation, is, in composition, principally the GLUTEN derived from the WHITE WINTER FLINT WHEAT CEREAL, a sold extract, the invention of an eminent Chemist. It has not only been highly recommended but certified to by a large number of Chemists and Physicians—representing a very high degree of medical science—as the SAFEST, MOST ACCEPTABLE AND RELIABLE FOOD FOR THE GROWTH AND PROTECTION OF INFANTS AND CHILDREN, and for Mothers lacking Sufficient Nourishment for their offspring.

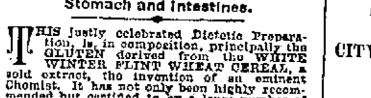

Unlike those preparations made from animal or vinous matter, which are liable to stimulate the brain and irritate the digestive organs, it embraces in its elementary composition—

That which makes strong Bone and Muscle. That which makes good Flesh and Blood. That which is easy of Digestion—never constipating. That which is kind and friendly to the Brain, and that which acts as a preventive of those Intestinal Disorders incidental to childhood.

And, while it would be difficult to conceive of anything in Food or Dessert more Creamy or Delicious, or more Nourishing and Strengthening as an aliment in Fevers, Pulmonary Complaints, Dyspepsia and General Debility, its Rare Medicinal Excellence in all Intestinal Diseases, especially in

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they call Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stone in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave him his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all Kidney and Bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of Bilious Disorders, Constipation of the Bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only one dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to OFFICE practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery. 122-4w
